Subject: Why did the Australian Prime Minister abandon the pandemic plan?

For the attention of:

Sir Charles Walker

Conservative MP for Broxbourne

Joint Vice-Chair 1922 Committee

Dear Sir Charles

As I discussed in my email to you on 29 May 2021, a key feature of the response to COVID-19 has been the abandonment of decades of pandemic planning by democratic nations and the World Health Organization. These plans were replaced with policies that were based on the infamous modelling by Neil Ferguson at Imperial College, and the response of the Chinese Government in Wuhan.

Modelling by the Doherty Institute in Australia was influenced by the work of Imperial College. These computer simulations have been used to pursue a suppression strategy from which we are yet to escape. Sixteen months into this fiasco our borders are still closed and another damaging cycle of lockdowns has begun. An unachievable goal of zero community transmission was decided upon for reasons unknown, except to those in the highest echelons of power.

I recently sent a letter to the Australian Prime Minister asking why his government abandoned Australia's pandemic plan to pursue an authoritarian suppression strategy, with a vaccine solution as the only way out. The Liberal Party of Australia, health authorities, politicians and public health officials were copied in on this email.

The letter can be found here:

Sir Charles, please continue to fight for the civil and political rights of all global citizens, before they are lost forever to this tyranny.

Yours sincerely

Emma McArthur
